de Jager's GOLD MEDAL TULIPS

We make a great Speciality of Tulips

Tulips belong to the most beautiful of Spring Flowers. Graceful and of impressive beauty they provide a brilliant colour display in the garden for at least two months in succession. Tulips are of easy culture as they are quite hardy and free flowering in either a sunny or shady situation.

A careful selection of varieties is advised to ensure a continuous flowering period. Kaufmanniana Tulips and other Rare Tulip Species bring a gay colour riot in the Rockery or border when Narcissi are almost over. Early in April, the Single Early Tulips are in bloom, celebrating with fine colours the arrival of a new season. A little later the Early Double Tulips attract the attention with their colourful and peony-like flowers, Mendel and Triumph Tulips with their long stems, vigorous habit and wonderful shades are the finishing touch of April. In a wide range of shades, self-colours and bi-colours, they give brilliancy to the Garden when flowers are needed to bridge the interval until May.

All through May, Darwin, Cottage, Lily-Flowering, Parrot, Breeder and Double Late Tulips are in bloom at almost the same time or in this succession. They give a parade of brilliant colours from pure white to almost black, from softest pink to deepest purple, all on splendid stems and with great alterations in form.

All Tulips are extremely useful for the garden and bring gaiety, pleasure and satisfaction.

Collections of Tulips: Of all different sections of Tulips, we offer in this catalogue very fine Collections which are carefully chosen and assembled to give entire satisfaction in your garden, border or for plantings anywhere around your home. The easiest to grow, distinct and dependable varieties are selected to produce a harmonious display of balanced beauty in a full range of colours.

Each variety is separately packaged and correctly labelled. All bulbs are choice selected varieties of top size.

Anyone not familiar with names of Tulips may order de Jager's Collections with every confidence and which are offered at a good saving too.

Outdoor Planting: Plant Tulips in groups of 6 or 12 to make a good display in the border or bed, 6 in. apart and 4 in. deep. They can be planted in Autumn until severe frosts set in. Tulips thrive well in any type of soil but if heavy, add some sand. Well cultivated and well drained soil is important. Dig soil before planting and do not have Tulips in the same location some years in succession, unless the soil has been removed and replaced with fresh at a depth of at least one foot. Inattention to this matter is often the cause of failure with Tulips. It is advised never to allow any part of the dead foliage or flower to drop on the ground. These parts carry diseases and infect the soil. Only use well decayed and old manure.

For Forcing: Early Tulips (single and double) including Mendel Tulips are suitable for earliest forcing, while Darwin and Triumph Tulips are for late forcing. After planting and plunging the Tulips it will take at least 10–12 weeks, before the shoots and sprouts are high enough that they may be brought into a dark room at a temperature of 55–60° F. to allow the stems to lengthen. After 10 days to two weeks the Tulips can be removed into a light warm room. For a few days, the bulbs should be covered with some paper before exposing to the full light. Tulips should never be hurried and bottom heat and draught should be avoided. Generally speaking, Amateurs should never bring in the bulbs, until the shoots are 3 to 4 in. high and after the middle of January.

Origin: The first time Tulips were ever mentioned, was in 1554, when Busbequis found a few specimen near Constantinople. Six years later, Carolus Clusius brought some of these Tulips to Holland and in 1601 he described 19 varieties in full detail and added 5 pictures. Dodonaeus wrote about Tulips in his Kruydtboek in 1618 and made three different sections. Most of the Tulips had broken colours and this was considered very fashionable. In 1634–1637, during the Tulipmania, fantastic prices were paid for bulbs, e.g. 1 Semper Augustus $ 2200.–, weight 2000 aces. The bulbs were sold per 'ace', one ounce is 5900 aces, and a good tulip bulb weighs now 7000 aces.

Darwin Tulips

We confidently recommend this late-flowering section of self coloured Tulips with their stately bearing and rich colours. They deserve universal attention and are most valuable in the garden, borders etc. on account of their brilliant colours and their long upright stems. The Darwins flower after the Triumph Tulips and are excellent for cutting, just at the time when most spring flowers are over and there is scarcity of flowers. As cut-flowers they are decorative in vases and last a long time in water.

Origin: A collection of Tulips imported from the North of France by Messrs. Krelage & Son at Haarlem. The actual origin is not known, but they were offered and brought into circulation in 1889, when they caused a real sensation, because of their long stems and fine colours.

For Forcing: Varieties marked with an asterisk (*) are suitable for late forcing and they should never be forced in too high a temperature and should be watered moderately. Darwin Tulips cannot be had in flower much before February, with the exception of the varieties Wm. Copland and Rose Copland which may be brought into the greenhouse for gentle forcing about the end of December.

Breeder Tulips

(May-flowering)

These majestic Tulips have now gained important prominence in gardens, as their refined flowers which are held on heavy upright stems produce a most artistic effect. Their fascinating colours of rich shades and tints in glorious autumnal purple and gold and bronze orange, yellow, soft copper and combinations of such colours rival the glorious rich tints of Indian Summer and are not to be found in other May-flowering Tulips. On account of their enormous size and vigorous growth, yet perfect in form and proportion, Breeder Tulips are a wonderful addition to the garden.

They are distinct in habit, embrace many beautiful colours and are excellent for borders, where they should be freely planted in large clumps or masses. They may also be naturalized in grass, Wild Gardens, etc. and present a gorgeous display during the month of May.

Mendel Tulips

(Mid-Season)

This type owes its particular value to the fact that it has contracted the glorious colours and the astounding value for the garden of the Darwin Tulips and the earliness of Duc van Tholl. They are of excellent habit and beauty and flower in the garden 10 to 14 days earlier than Darwins, thus bridging the interval between Single Early and Triumph Tulips. Most varieties can be forced early quite easily and in a short time, this adds considerably to their value. In the description of each variety, the approximate forcing date is mentioned.

Origin: The name of this race was given to a group of varieties obtained from cross-pollination between Duc van Tholl and Darwin Tulips by Messrs. E. H. Krelage & Son of Haarlem, Holland. These seedlings flowered for the first time in 1915 and were introduced at Haarlem in 1921. They caused a real sensation and fancy prices were paid for the stocks.

Forcing: After the rooting period they may be exposed at once to the full light, contrary to all other Tulips which should be started in the dark. If for some unforeseen reason the height is not obtained and the bulbs are found to be lazy, they should be left in the dark for a few days and thus encourage the sprouts to lengthen. See information on page 2.

Daffodils and Narcissi

The beauty of Daffodils and Narcissi is unquestioned and these flowers now form a leading feature in almost every Spring garden. Every Gardener should realize the enormous amount of intense pleasure that can so easily be obtained from the cultivation of a batch of Daffodils or Narcissi.

Indication and origin of the name Daffodil and Narcissus. The use of the terms Narcissus and Daffodils is being confused a great many times. There is a tendency to apply "Daffodil" to varieties of which the trumpet or cup is as large or larger than the perianth, while the name Narcissus indicates varieties having small cups. The term Narcissus however, is correct for all different types of Daffodils and Narcissi. The name Daffodil is from an interesting origin. In the fifteenth century, the words affadile and affodille applied for asphodel, a Narcissus with a large cup. In 1538 Turner writes about affadyll and daffadilly. Ten years later he says in his "Names of Herbes" that an English whyte affodil is a Duché Daffodil. He uses the forms affodil and daffodil in 1551. The name Daffodil was then used by Gerarde, when he used this term in his Herbal.

Other forms of Daffodil have been: aphrodillus, affodillus, daffodilly, daffadyl, affodyll, daffodyll, pseudo-narcissus and bastarde-narcissus.

The origin of the term Narcissus has not been connected with so much variance. It is accepted that the name has been deduced from the Greek verb Narkao (Lat. obtorpesco), which means to narcotize, as the flower was considered to do so. There is also a Greek myth that accounts for the name, in which Narkissos is the chief character.

Naturalizing Daffodils and Narcissi in Grass etc. All Daffodils and Narcissi are suitable for naturalizing but in very heavy soils, preference should be given to stronger growing sorts e.i. Trumpet varieties and many Large Cupped sorts. They are all admirably adaptable for grassy slopes and banks, where they should be freely planted. A splendid effect is obtained when Trumpet and other varieties are grouped separately, scattered on the ground and planted where they fall.

Soil and its Treatment. Daffodils and Narcissi will thrive in any well cultivated and drained garden soil. In preparing the ground for planting, dig deeply and if well rotted stable or cow manure is available this may advantageously be dug in 18 to 20 inches deep so as not to come into immediate contact with the bulbs. Never use fresh manure of any kind at planting time. On poor and dry sandy soils we recommend a dressing of sulphate of potash at a rate of about 1 oz. per square yard to be sprinkled over the surface of the ground after planting.

Growing Daffodils in the greenhouse or indoors. All types of Daffodils and Narcissi are suitable for this purpose. Pot up the bulbs on arrival and if ordinary pots are used take a good loamy soil, adding sufficient sand and peat to keep the mixture open. A light dusting of bone meal is also useful. Pot firmly in well crocked pots. For bowls without drainage holes use a good fibre. Plunge the pots and/or bowls in the coolest place of your garden and in the absence of garden space the pots may be placed in a cool cellar (35–40° F.) where watering from time to time is necessary. When the shoots are about 4 inches long and the flower buds well out of the neck of the bulbs, the pots may be removed into a warm room. Heat should be gradually increased from 50° to max. 60° F.

It is advisable to remove the foliage of the sideshoots, if these do not show a flower bud. Just before the buds are open water lightly, when they are in bloom less water should be applied.

Revision of the Classification of Daffodils. In this catalogue we have adopted the revised system for the new R.H.S. classification of Daffodils and Narcissi formally approved by the General Bulb Growers Society of Haarlem (Holland) and the Daffodil Societies of America, Canada, Australia, Tasmania and New Zealand.

The principal changes on comparing the old system with the new one are as follows:

The former Leedii, Incomparabilis and Barrii Divisions are transferred into two Divisions; viz. Division II Large-Cupped Narcissi with its sub-divisions a, b, c, d and Division III Small-Cupped Narcissi with its sub-divisions a, b, c and d.

The whole Genus is now classified in eleven Divisions as follows:

Ia. Yellow Trumpets – Ib. Bicolor Trumpets – Ic. White Trumpets – IIa. Large-Cupped, yellow perianth, coloured cup or corona – IIb. Large-Cupped, white perianth, coloured cup or corona – IIc. Large-Cupped, white perianth, white cup or corona – IIId. Large-Cupped, not falling in a, b, or c. – IIIa. Small-Cupped, yellow perianth, coloured cup or corona – IIIb. Small-Cupped, white perianth, coloured cup or corona – IIIc. Small-Cupped, white perianth, white cup or corona – IIId. Small-Cupped, not falling in a, b, or c – IV. Double varieties – V. Triandrus Narcissi – VI. Cyclamineus Narcissi – VII. Jonquilla Narcissi – VIII. Tazetta Hybrids (Poetaz etc.) – IX. Poeticus Narcissi – X. Species and Wild forms and Hybrids – XI. Miscellaneous Narcissi not falling into any of the foregoing Divisions.

Hyacinths

The best hand-picked quality, choice bulbs selected from healthy stocks, adopted for Bowls, Pots, Glasses and for Exhibition. We include only valuable varieties in our Collections.

CULTURE IN POTS

Hyacinths should be potted early in September for Christmas flowering and every fortnight thereafter for succession. Plunge pots in the coolest place of the garden, or place in a dark, cool cellar. After three or four months, remove to the forcing house as required, but care should always be taken that the bulbs are well rooted and the buds well out of the neck of the bulbs before beginning to force, as successful cultivation depends almost completely on these points. To keep the foliage dwarf and to assist the perfect colouring of the flowers, they should have occasionally a supply of liquid manure during the growing period. Always use clean old pots.

HYACINTHS ON GLASSES

Fill the glass with water (rainwater preferred) so as almost to touch the base of the bulbs, a few pieces of charcoal should be put in the glass, as this keeps the water pure. The next procedure is the simple one of placing the glasses in any dark cool room, cellar or cupboard until the sprouts are about 3 inches high, then they may be brought gradually to the full light. Although this system of culture is very simple, it is of the first importance that suitable bulbs should be obtained.

OUTDOOR CULTURE

For successful cultivation in the open air, Hyacinths may be planted any time from September to December. September and October being the best months; they like a light rich soil, the ground should be sufficiently drained to prevent it becoming too retentive of moisture; plant the bulbs at equal distances apart in circles or straight lines and about 5 inches deep. Never plant the bulbs when the ground is wet. They require a little covering of straw or a thin layer of leaves during the winter to protect them from frost.

Those marked* are easy forcing varieties and especially suitable for indoor culture

Double Peonies

HOLLAND GROWN STURDY YOUNG ROOTS WITH 3 TO 5 EYES

Ready for shipment in September

Culture: Peonies should be set so that the buds are definitely not below two or three inches under surface of soil. New plants should never be set in ground from which established Peony clumps have been recently removed. The Peony likes rich ground, but the roots must not be placed in contact with manure. Some protection from sunlight helps the flowers to retain the full delicacy of their colouring, which fades out in full sunlight. On the other hand, the peony detests having its ground invaded by tree roots.

The number following each name is the percentage rating given by the American Peony Society.
